SERIOUS ACCIDENT

While riding on Monday afternoon, Lyle Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Bailey, was thrown off his horse and seriously injured. The accident happened south of town, near Mr. Bailey's farm. Lyle had been down to the farm with his father, and was returning home when the accident happened. Mr. Bailey was in a buggy, and noticing that the boy was not in sight turned back to see what was keeping him. After driving back some distance he discovered Lyle lying in the middle of the road, unconscious, his head and face being terribly bruised. He immediately stopped the buggy, and placed him under medical care. Yesterday the victim of the accident had recovered of consciousness partially, and the doctors in attendance are of the opinion that he will pull through all right.

How the accident happened can only be guessed at, but it appears from the damage to the saddle that the horse flung the boy heavily on the ground, and his foot being caught in the stirrup, he was dragged a considerable distance.

FROM THE SANCTUM

"If a man had only foreseen what was going to happen in this election, what a barrel of money he could have made by putting up a real coin! Why, think what a killing I could have made betting that the government would be turned by 20 majority!" said the casual but speculative visitor.

"Do you know what would have happened to you?" interposed a wise man of the staff. "You wouldn't have got any, and the police would have shipped you to Ponoka before this. That is the way of things. I was in a restaurant, for luncheon on election day, and I was an interior visitor, and I was looking individual with a husky voice and a bleary eye, startled the crowd by offering to bet a thousand dollars at two to one that the government would be defeated. No person jumped for him. They thought he was a humorist or badly the worse of bad election booze, and I think yet that he was."

There are a lot of good prospects for senators, lieutenant-governors and down to the lower offices, who were right in line or not very far off first choice or thereabouts three days none too good for these children who come from nice people and who are well qualified to grace a place in any home.

OLIVE

Mrs. John Hayes is very ill with inflammation of the stomach.

All the election boom has been consumed and things are again running smoothly.

Bishop Pinkham, of Calgary, was in Lacombe Saturday and Sunday to administer the infant class of Basil Heriot.

Mrs. Hutchcroft and daughter Naomi, and son James, were visitors at Olive Monday.

Mr. Davis, lately from Japan, gave an interesting address on the education of the children of Japan and the Philippine Islands. Some fine musical numbers were rendered by the Olive talent.

John Maurer of Olive, and the other Miller of Olive, were the Duroc exhibitors at the Edmonton fair. Mr. Maurer showed 23 head and Mr. Miller 30. Messrs. McIntyre and Arnold made the awards, after the fashion of the corn belt judges of this particular kind show in the Central States. Maurer rather had the best of the show in the majority of the sections, but was able to land only one of the championship prizes. The Duroc, six months old and under twelve, Miller took the female championship honors with his aged sow that was second at Calgary, then in the hands of Mr. Maurer. The Duroc champion was not shown here, as Mr. Maurer did not wish to risk the shipping her with her young family.

Awards in detail follow:
Aged boar, 1st Maurer; 2nd Miller; Yearling boar, 1st and 2nd, Maurer; 2nd, Miller. Boar six months and under twelve, 1st and 2nd, Maurer; 3rd, Miller. Aged sow, 1st Miller; 2nd and 3rd, Maurer. Sow six months and under twelve, 1st and 2nd, Miller; 3rd, Maurer. Sow and litter, 1st, Maurer; 2nd, Miller. Champion boar, Maurer. Champion sow, Miller.

Mr. Maurer shipped another pair of his fine Duroc Jersey pigs on Monday to R. B. Ester, at Acme; this is the second pair shipped to Acme.
Norman Meadows has got a new smoke-stack on his office.

WOMAN'S PART IN THE FARM HOME

(From Alberta Homestead)

In the making of the farm home we may divide the work in two parts, which make a perfect whole, and each is necessary to make the other complete. These two parts belong respectively to the husband and wife, and each should be allowed to lead their own province, yet working in harmony together. The farm should be to the farmer like the store to the merchant—his business, to which he must give his thought and time if he earns a salary. That provides well for the home. The farm is his half of the complete farm home.

The part of home making which may be considered the wife's province, is home economics, which includes the selection of food, and its preparation, house sanitation, furnishing and decoration, and care of the home. Besides the above, she should have a knowledge of horticulture and ornamental gardening, both indoors and out of doors. Farmers' wives need to know how to rightly grow fruits and vegetables in the kitchen garden, and know the right management of poultry, especially if they are starting without much capital, and are trying to pay for a farm.

The work in the fruit and vegetable garden should be done in connection with the growing farm crops, by the farmer and his help. The latest improved farm and garden implements now will plant and cultivate the garden rapidly and easily, so as to need not be a hard or knee-aching work, when these are driven by horse or man power. The wife should be the inspiration to the man that will cause the garden to be made and get the work done at the right time. It is well for her to do some of the lighter work, as seed sowing, etc., for her husband will spend more time in the garden if his wife is with him. Only a few men know how to make a garden right, so let the wife study that, she may know and make the modern an up-to-date garden.

For the same reason that the farmer's wife should have a knowledge of horticulture, she should know about the right management of poultry for if it is left to the busy farmer, it will probably be neglected, and will not pay a good profit. She can do the lighter work and let others do the hard work. Most men need to be enthused and inspired, and often directed by some one who knows just how the things should be done. Along the line of gardening, poultry keeping, landscape and ornamental gardening, house sanitation, etc., and very often in the farm work, the husband would succeed much better if he and his wife were actually planned together. Most women have the gift of intuition in a larger degree than most men, and when men hesitate and experiment, a woman's intuition shows her the right course.

As the farmer and wife work together and prosper, as they will if they work as indicated, they should have all the comforts and conveniences of the modern home, such as a place of carpets, a furnace that of the stove, inside closets and bathrooms that let in all the sunlight possible, ventilation, and furnishes as pure air as that of doors, a supply of pure water in the house, and drainage pipes or sewers that make impurities in the water or about the house, impossible.

We have scripture authority that "we seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness," the good things that are added, i.e., if we start right and keep in the right way, more and more of the best things will come to us, things that are not entirely material, but are reaching out toward the spiritual and real. Our food, that is largely composed of beautiful and luscious fruits, nutmegs, cereals, etc., will please us more if served in beautiful dishes, on clean linen, on which there is a bouquet of flowers. More flowers and ornamental plants will be grown indoors, more pictures and mottoes hung on the walls, and that are helpful reminders, more good literature, that teaches rightly and inspires. The grounds about the house will be made beautiful by the planting of ornamental trees, shrubs and flowers, and the plans of living will be made higher, year after year.

The one thing which is the central point in this article, is that the woman in the home should have a vision of the things mentioned, and see them as ideals. She should be the inspiration that will cause them to be made, and to the end she should study right methods and details of work, that she may be able to lead and direct, if need be, as well as inspire. This is the wife's moral duty, as much as it is the duty of the husband to be a successful business manager on the farm, that he will be able to pay the bills, and have the means to put aside all differences when it comes to boosting the town. No town ever made real progress on the way to substantial success without the aid. Together spirit unanimously adopted. It has rivaled old, hells of towns that were growing their way into endless sleep. It has infused new lifeblood into the heart of commercial life and trade-thriving cities out of paralysis. Natural advantages count for much, and prosperity cannot be built on shifting sand, but any town with half a chance can be made to grow and expand and thrive when it is surrounded with one record in the boosting program.

THE ELIXIR OF LIFE

(By Thomas Tapper.)

A recent news item tells us that a man committed suicide because he failed to find the elixir of life by mixing fine wines. This story may not be true. But it is true that many a man has tried to find something that will give him youth, and give it to him day after day. Probably in seeking perpetual youth no man expects to live forever, but he expects to live young every day.

This is not a foolish search; it is a very wise one. Every one can be young every day if he wants to; but not by mixing fine wines; not by mixing any wines; in fact.

The source of youth is not in bottles, springs, fountains, wines or sanitariums. It is in the heart. Of course, every body knows this; and yet few believe it. But it is true never the less.

There is a queer character who lives not very many miles from a certain place. He is an old man in years and a very young man in all he does and particularly in all he thinks.

He keeps a horse and a cow, a few sheep and hens; his place is big enough for his needs, and he has no money except a little he earns now and then, by selling his eggs, vegetables and milk, or doing a day's work for somebody else.

And there are several things he has NOT. He has no worry, fear, sickness, anxiety or ill nature. He is a good neighbor, helps anybody who can help, sings his own tune, and if anybody else wants to sing, he keeps still until the other man is done.

"I said to him one day: 'You are not more than fifty, are you?'"

"Only thirty years more than fifty," by my birthday certificate—that's eighty, and about thirty years less by my feelings—that's twenty."

"Well," I said, "how do you keep so young?"

"Here," he answered to that, he replied, pulling a ragged pocket and handing it to me. Looking little book from his finger, he said: "On the cover he had written, 'Talk With My Conscience'."

"What is it all about?" I asked.

"Just this," he said; "I never do anything I'm in doubt about without talking it over with myself. I feel like a judge trying my own case. If the judge says, 'Don't do it,' I quit. If he says, 'Go ahead,' I begin and never let up."

"When I was a young man out in the world, this used to help me a lot more than it does now. There were lots of temptations in those days, and I used to get my head in the moon occasionally. But I soon stopped that. If the thing didn't figure out right, according to my conscience, I just quit it before I began. Saved myself lots of trouble that way."

"And what do you think this conscience-judge is that you talk to?"

"Call it what you like. Some call it God; some Universal Life; Deity. It makes no difference all I do is to shut my eyes and ask the question, and I am satisfied with what the power tells me to do. You see, youngsters, whatever the case is, I can't make any mistake doing it, for I'm always looking for the right thing to do."

"It's a great scheme," he went on. "Fills you with faith that you're on the right track, keeps your heartbreak, aching, your clear, muscles in fine shape. No more worries, no being afraid of anything on earth. Health always up to the top notch, and everything serene. How's that?"

"It seems a great scheme to me. Did you ever tell anybody about it?"

"No," he exactly told them; just keep on doing it every day. I'm no preacher. Haven't any time just keep on living the conscience-free from morning to night and back again. It suits me all right. By setting my compass that way I'm in fine shape at eighty."

"Nothing on the sky with me. Always keep out in the open. These sleek, easy-going men and women, who think they can do what they like and no one will know, are killing themselves. They may have a youthful look for a while, but pretty soon they have to go out and buy a bottle of hair dye or complexion powder and try to look younger. But it can't be done."

"Same with the lines of a man's face. If they have come there by small, dishonorable ways, they will always stay there. You can't rub them out with stuff from a bottle. It's God's handwriting."

He is a queer old genius, this man who lives some miles from a certain place. He makes no mistake in the future, desires to keep young. He keeps young by keeping right side up every day.

It sounds too good to be true. And yet it is true, and there is no other truth to be said about it.

Eternal youth is eternal peace, goodness, helpfulness and work.

These bring quiet sleep, joy in which all portions of Alberta are at times subject, the institution of such an insurance rests primarily with the provincial government.

As it is now very well known that such storms do occur with more or less loss every season, and that there is not afforded any general or permanent scheme to adequately recompense the farmer either against partial or total loss. This adverse factor does not encourage emigration or settlement in the province, but were it known that the government had instituted a permanent and general insurance corporation which guaranteed every farmer throughout the province from loss up to so much per acre, what an inducement this would be to the impending emigrants to settle in our midst.

Now that the large rancher is passing away, and the farmer is now tilling these lands, surely it would be well to tax all the uncultivated and patented lands say 1 cent per acre yearly.

These first requires to be a substantial paid-up capital, and as it is impossible at the present stage of the province's expanse to obtain this capital from the farmer, the Government could well afford to advance the necessary cash for this purpose, and this say to the extent of a million dollars. That should not be a difficult matter to do, seeing that soon Alberta will have control of her own resources as per our premier's statement, and it would be very feasible for them to issue bonds to do, seeing that soon Alberta will have control of her own resources.

It is admitted that the dread ordinances with a substantial loss to the farmer through capital; but as hail insurance is a climatic contingency, and to no adequate recompense in case

HAIL INSURANCE

It is pleasing to note that Mr. Shaw, M.P.P., has taken up the matter of compulsory hail insurance.

The provincial hail insurance, as must be admitted, is not a success, nor never will be, until established on a sound financial basis, and this can only be attained through the medium of a general levy of so much per acre on all occupied and patented land, and establishing in addition a fund as a nucleus for working capital to start with.

These are the two essentials for inauguration of a permanent insurance system.

How to formulate such a scheme it would be well to look into the experience gained in the ordinary insurance fire and life—which has now developed to a fine art, as all these companies were founded under their own charters or the joint stock ordinances, with a substantial loss to the farmer through capital; but as hail insurance is a climatic contingency, and to no adequate recompense in case of loss, acts as a detriment to either extensive cultivation or emigration of the monied farmer, and is it not advisable that absentee land owners should bear a fair share of this taxation and so help to build up the prosperity of the province? It must not be forgotten that the principle of interest is based on averages, and the government should be in possession of sufficient data as to the income derived from premiums and the profit and loss account of the past, as well as the total acreage in Alberta that are patented. With these particulars, it should be an easy matter to start a scheme that would give satisfaction.

TEN KILLED IN MOTOR CAR RACE

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Ten persons are dead and at least fourteen are seriously injured as the result of an accident during the 50 mile automobile race at the fair grounds yesterday when a Knox car, driven by Lee Oldfield, leaped from the track and plunged into the throng of spectators on the other side of the fence. Six of the ten persons were killed outright, the three others died soon after, and the fourth died today.

De Palma, in a Stanglex, broke two world's records. In the 50 mile race De Palma made the record for both 25 and 50 miles, the time respectively being 23.15 and 47.21. He also won the ten mile event for cars under 600 cubic inches piston displacement. Burman broke the state fair track record, going a mile in 48.53.

The accident occurred at the first turn of the track after leaving the grand stand. On the inside of the oval the people jammed against the fence. The racers had just completed the forty-third mile of the race and De Palma was leading. Oldfield was close behind. On the first turn his right tire blew up. His machine flew from the track crashed through the fence and plunged into the mass of people on the other side. Shouts of the crowd, gathered about the scene of the tragedy, told the officials that the accident was a tragedy. Calls were sent to Syracuse and every ambulance in the city was hurried to the scene.

Four people died at the hospital after being taken there. Four hours afterwards the officials declared Oldfield had been driving his car with one of his shoes flapping with the hope of beating out De Palma. Instead of stopping it had caused him to increase the speed. In spite of the fact that it quickly became known that many had been killed and injured the officials in charge refused to call off the race and the last few miles were run while hundreds thronged the track.

Oldfield, who is in a city hospital, is being guarded by an officer and as soon as he recovers will be arrested.

RIMBEY.

The weather! It isn't worth mentioning. Wm. Williams took the ballot-box to Lacombe Friday. Mrs. Thompson and daughter Florence, of Bentley, mother and sister of Rev. Thompson, visited at the home of R. H. Waters last Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. Walker, Taggart, had the misfortune to lose two fine colts from poison last week.

P. W. Rimbey's new real estate office, situated opposite the store, was used as Conservative headquarters on election day. Rimbey now boasts of three real estate offices, and if competition is good for trade, one ought to be able to buy dirt pretty cheap here now.

Damon's meat wagon made the regular trip to Bentley last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Chambers are down from Edmonton for a few weeks stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Langmuir.

A number of young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Symonds last Monday evening and gave Miss Grace Everhart a pleasant surprise, the occasion being her 18 birthday. Games and dancing were the amusement of the evening while a dainty luncheon was served at midnight.

The people here possibly did not show their enthusiasm at the Liberal meeting addressed by Dr. Oatley. We were promised that they showed it on election day by giving Dr. Clark a majority of 13 votes out of 44 cast.

Robin White is enjoying a visit with his father who arrived last Friday from England.

Forty-four votes were cast at Rimbey out of a total of fifty-six on the polling list.

Mr. Fred McFetridge passed through Rimbey last Monday with 132 head of cattle, most of which he had bought up in the Medicine Valley. He was taking them to his farm between here and Ponoka.

Mr. Gunn, of Colfax, Wash., owner of the Jim Cox home-stead, spent a few days here last week with his friend J. G. Smith.

Miss Eva Weiss, of Weiserville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thorp.

EDWARD J. QUIRK, Manager

The election is over, the country is settling down, to a quiet life again, and we are not expecting any picnic just at present, at the result.

The first killing frost to visit this section showed up here last Friday morning, and since then it has been rather like winter. Midnight frosts now make its appearance, we did not get as much of that as they did farther south. All appearances are for warmer weather, and a month's good weather should follow.

Elijah A. Pierce, of Elkhart, Pa., is a prospecting for Geo. E. Borden, and is proving to be a first class workman, especially in horse-shoeing.

Geo. E. Borden made a trip to Custer last week, probably hunting for a new place to settle. He has some coming out today.

E. T. Bradshaw, of Wittenburg, stopped over on his way to and from Lacombe where he made the purchase of another team.

We have just heard that Geo. Garries, while away last week was down to Chicago, rustling binder twine for his customers and brought back what he would as baggage, and that Mr. C. E. Smith went in after some today. At any rate he is ready to deliver what you bought last summer.

was also elected. Mr. Borden stated that he would probably attend the luncheon being held at the Lacombe Hotel, and that he would be present at the parliamentary restaurant on the evening of his departure. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has also expressed his intention to be present at the function.

THE PREMIER ADMITS IT

Montreal, Sept. 26.—There is no doubt that we have been defeated, declared Sir Wilfrid Laurier, this evening at Quebec, to a group of friends who had gathered with him to hear the returns, and to lay down the measures, a burden which I have carried for 15 years. We believed that in making the reciprocity arrangement we had done something which would be greatly to the benefit of the people of Canada. The electors have declared otherwise, and I bow to their decision. I regret that we have been unable to carry reciprocity which I still believe would have promoted the material advancement of Canada, and would have promoted the growing friendship between the United States and Great Britain. However, the country has spoken. We must bow to the inevitable, and cheerfully do so.

UP-TO-DATE DAIRY

A NEW INDUSTRY

The City Dairy will open shortly with their up-to-date plant, including bottle-filling machines, power bottle-washer, cooler, testers, etc. All milk will be strained through Red Cross Filter Cloth, and will be free from all sediment. All milk and cream is guaranteed pure and clean and will be constantly tested to insure a first class article.

We are doing in a progressive way, an age of motor cars, aeroplanes, wireless telegraphy. What was good enough for our grandfathers will not do for us today and in no case does this more so apply than in the dairy business. The delivery of the supply is also being rapidly revolutionized. It has been proven that milk peddled through the streets is easily contaminated by dust, and even life, which abounds in the air, and to which it is constantly being exposed when filling delivery cans, and for this reason alone, system of our peddling.

We are considering a more sanitary and unnecessary, and is being replaced by delivery in sealed bottles, which, being thoroughly cleaned, eliminates the possibility of contamination during delivery.

"Sterile" milk is practically free from outside contamination, and is a preferable form for purchasing it.

"Can" milk is liable to contamination from dust, from bacteria, and from the air.

The top and outside of the bottle should be rinsed off with warm water before being opened.

Place the milk at once in a refrigerator, and keep it as cool as possible. Keep the covers on the bottles as it prevents material falling in, and also prevents absorption of odors.

Wash and seal the bottles as soon as empty.

Do not buy milk because it is cheap, for usually it is the dearest in the end.

FARMER & LEONHARD, Proprietors, City Dairy, Lacombe.

SIR WILFRID WILL LEAD PARTY

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier will remain at the head of the Liberal party, and lead the opposition to the new parliament, and meet some six weeks hence. He was at his office early on Saturday morning, looking and feeling physically as fit as ever. He shows his greatness as much in defeat as in victory, serene in the conflict brings with it no disgrace, and his party have stood most bravely in the face of the new parliament.

He is smilingly declared that he is still ready "to stay with the boys" and lead the Liberal forces when the new parliament meets.

The feeling in Ottawa among Conservatives and Liberals alike is one of personal regret for the prime minister and for the fortunes of political war, but this feeling of mingled defeat, and this feeling of mingled with perhaps an even intensified feeling for the "old chief," who has a long record of public service which shows no blot, and whose character, ability, and statesmanship are today as unquestioned as ever. Sir Wilfrid would personally prefer to take the opportunity of seeking a well-earned rest from the constant stress and care of his long and arduous life.

He is also looking forward for hours of leisure in the life of a private citizen, but his decision to remain

FOR FALL & WINTER

Men's and Youth's Overcoats
Men's and Youth's Pants
Men's and Youth's Suits

Men's and Youth's requirements throughout for the season make up a very strong and a very large Department in our store. We want you to see our showing. We appeal to you with the best values going and correct styles.

Mackinaw Clothing

We have again forward the reliable "Gars" Mackinaw Jackets and Pants, both the knee pants and the long pants, and all weights in the jackets. They are good goods, which it is a pleasure to sell to you, being practically water and cold proof and, perhaps the most comfortable outer garments made.

Sheep-lined Coats

Both duco and whipcord sheep lined jackets, with large beaver collars, are this year fully equal to our last year's values, and they were especially good. They are made in every detail in the best manner by manufacturers who especially study the requirements of the western trade.

LADIES', MEN'S, MISSES and BOY'S Sweaters & Sweater Coats

We have to-day the finest showing we ever made in these popular garments. The manufacturers have this year brought the color combinations and trimmings to almost perfection in their pleasingness and variety and attractiveness of style.

Flannelettes

We have a big pile of flannelettes awaiting your orders, and because we sell an enormous quantity of them and to interest you we have gone the second time over the pricing, marking them especially low for the opening of the season.

Shirtings

This is another line that makes a pile of good qualities—strong weaves in attractive patterns. In buying this lot we stipulated for quality first, as experience has taught us that our customers want what will wear and wash well.

ODD DISHES

Let us clear them out. They are just such Dishes as you require every day. Plates, Platters, Vegetable Dishes, Fruit Dishes, Sugars, Creams and Jugs. Those who visit our store during this, and next week, will find the best bargains we ever had in this Department.

SMALLWARES

for Ladies' and Men's Wear—the Toilet—the Household the daintiest and latest in fancy things, as well as Bargains in staple lines. We say "Bargains" advisedly, because we certainly have surprising values now in comparison with prices of not so long ago in a copperless country.

Market Report

EGGS, per doz. 23½c.
 BUTTER, per lb. 20c.

GRAIN:

The Canadian grain markets have declined from 1c. to 2c. during the last few days, while the American markets have advanced; both the decline and the advance being due to the result of our general election, but in view of the large world shortage we anticipate as good prices as last year for this year's crop. On Winnipeg basis the prices here would be:

Oats, per bus. 29 to 30
 Wheat " 80 to 82
 Barley, " 60 to 62

POTATOES:

Some enquiry is already made for potatoes, but buyers are more in the mood to ask what they could get them for rather than make an offer. There are really no facilities for handling potatoes here in the fall; their harvesting is too late and the frost risk is too liable.

HAY:

$14.00 per ton is already offered for baled timothy, but better prices are looked for and we think they will be obtainable.

HOGS:

$1c. was paid here last week for hogs, and the local market is very firm at that price, and more may be paid this week. This price is an advance in face of a decline in Eastern markets. Ontario Hogs are on the Calgary market.

BEEF:

Butcher cows and heifers are fetching 3½c. per lb., and butcher steers 4c.

Reciprocity

The question of free access to the best markets; the question of the most economical and efficient marketing facilities, and the reduction of the difference between the prices the consumers pay and the farmers receive, is more an economic than a political party question; and as such does not depend on election results or political parties. The marketing of the increasing production of the West to the best advantage, it seems to us, must be dealt with in earnest, and as far as governments can help it, it does not matter which party is in power.

DRESSMAKING

We would be pleased to have applications for learners in this department.

DRESS GOODS

We have undertaken to make this one of the strongest sections in our Store, by keeping a stock that will please our customers in range and value.

Priestley's

lines will always be well represented, and we will aim to serve all classes of our customers with a range and choice of fabrics at all prices.

APPLES

A box of "Fall Apples" is perhaps as desirable a purchase as can be made. The Ontario crop is short this year, but B.C. and the Western States can supply us at the present at moderate prices, and the quality is excellent.

FLOUR

Flour is a purchase to the buyer's advantage just before new wheat is ground by the millers. Mills have already advanced prices which are still firm. Per sack or in quantity we can save you money, and guarantee the highest quality.

GLOVES

LINED AND UNLINED, AND

Dents Fine Gloves, Ladies and Misses Gloves, Little Gloves and Mitts for little ones.

We are prepared for a steady run on these lines with the advent of cooler weather, and we have a choice range to show you and remarkable good prices.

Ladies' and Children Underwear

We have the call for warmer underwear, and we have it out for your inspection this week—to help you to compare and choose and buy it right.

BLANKETS QUILTS

Our heaps of these bother us to find room for them. We have some specially fine Quilts as well as the cheaper ones, and Hudson Bay Blankets, pure wool Blankets, white and grey, and the cheaper Union Grey Blankets, and all sizes of Flannelette Sheets and Blankets.

Footwear is Legion

at the moment, so many kinds being called for. There are many little but desirable improvements in Fall and Winter lines this year, while prices are also better. Our range is larger to meet the more varied requirements of our customers.

THE ELECTION

The election is over. Laurier's government is overwhelmingly defeated; the cold-wave appears to have passed; and the farmers of Alberta are again hard at work in their harvest fields. When the first news of the defeat of Laurier was received on Thursday night the people of this part of Alberta did not realize that it was true, and crowds were around the telephone offices until after midnight in the hope that the first news was wrong. The news was right, however, and they were compelled to realize that it was generally the unexpected that happens. In the constituency of Red Deer Michael Clark has a majority in the neighborhood of 2,000. In Lacombe and vicinity the Liberal suffered a decisive defeat, a majority of about 120 at the last election being turned to a minority vote of 40.

AN INNOVATION

For a campaign fought with such vigor as to destroy a strongly entrenched government and give the opposition a commanding majority in Parliament has been surprisingly little had temper shown. The result, too, has been received with a composure unknown in our politics. It is due, of course to the character of the fight. It was recognized as a referendum on a big question, and it was agreed on all sides that it was the duty of every man to vote upon it as his judgment indicated. The pull of loyalty to party was thus at a minimum. Liberals profited by this through out the West and Conservatives to a much greater degree throughout the East. The voting on both sides was undoubtedly sincere; it was the result of independent thinking on a big question.
